The Queen & Crescent Route are announcing a fast train known as the "Florida and Havana Limited." It will go into service from Cincinnati to Tampa, Jacksonville, Miami, Mobile and New Orleans. This exponent of the genuine American idea of getting into the field early will be a complete vestibuled service, with diners, observation cars, wide vestibules, electric headlights, and all the paraphernalia of the modern railroad train. It is chiefly to be marked as being first in the field for the new territory which is just coming under the protection of the greatest flag on earth. Train will make fast time to ports named and will connect with fine steamer service to various ports in Cuba, Porto Rico and Jamaica. It marks a new era in railroading in this country.

After the marriage they drove to the groom's mother, Mrs. Lillie A. Beazley's, where an elegant lunch was served and a few hours later came to the St. Asaph Hotel where they will be at home to their friends. They were recipients of numerous handsome and useful presents, and a cablegram of congratulation from the bride's brother, Lieut. H. Y. Grubbs, in Cuba. PORTO RICO.

CAPT. PENNY WRITES ENTERTAININGLY FROM THERE.

Under date of Oct. 20th, Capt. W. B. Penny, Co. B, 6th U. S. V., writes from Manati, Porto Rico, to his wife, who kindly permits us to make the following extracts:

"I arrived here night before last with my company and we are in the best building in the town, which claims 7,000 population. I am ruler and chief over the town and 29 miles square, which means in this country, 40,000 people, so thickly is it settled. On my arrival the mayor sent a request to call and I had my interpreter tell him that he could do so next morning at 9:30. At that hour he came in his best bib and tucker to turn the city over to me, which was done with great flourish. I immediately appointed him mayor and had him appoint some aldermen, so Manati will be run on the principle of the great and good Stanford. Send me John Newland for marshal and I can turn off my 50 policemen."

The mayor and I took a drive over the city and into the edge of the plantations. I never expect to see a country any richer. The finest coffee, I ever drank, grows on this island. We drink mostly water from the green cocoanuts, which is sweet and pure. They sell on the streets for 1c.

I had a proclamation issued that no intoxicants shall be sold to the soldiers, and if it is done, I will immediately close the place and put the proprietor out of business.

I was so homesick this morning, that I thought I would pass out. In going through my trunk, I found one of Cooper's little shoes. I could not help a few scalding tears from coursing down my rugged cheeks, nor stop the tugging at my heart strings. Though 1,000 miles away, I feel that I am near you and that no harm will befall my little flock, my all on this earth."

In his next letter dated Oct. 21, he tells of accepting the mayor's invitation to a chicken fight and of the presentation to him of a fighter valued at $100, but he never expects to fight chickens again. A bull fight was to have been given in his honor in a few days.

"I had the American flag raised at this place and everyone treats it with the greatest respect, many taking off their hats when they pass under it. I have one case of measles. Thomas Hoop, who is not sick much, but I sent him by train to the hospital at Arcebo, so that he may have the best of treatment. We make it a point to see that our boys are well taken care of, when they do get sick."

Our location is a splendid one. It is just three miles from the sea and we get full benefit of the breezes. We get nice fish at a pound, fresh from the river, a few 100 yards away. Sweet and Irish potatoes are shipped here. The latter cost us $2 a bushel, but as we trade hard tack for them, we do not lose much in the exchange.

Tell George (Penny) my interpreter is a professor in the Spanish school, who has been studying English for about eight months and speaks it very well. I can speak some Spanish but my pronunciation is bad.

We now have telegraphic communication all over Porto Rico and with the cable. I could cable you in the morning and get an answer in the afternoon, but it would cost $1.10 a word, address and all included.

I had a nice dinner today, consisting of pan blanco, sopa de fideos, la carne del cocido, huevos parados por agua, frito, una ensalada, queso, gelatina, which means some white bread, vermouth soup, boiled beef, boiled eggs, some fried fish, salad, cheese and jelly."

I went to Vega Baja yesterday to muster Lieut. Lindsay and the 15 men he has with him. This country is certainly the home of the ancient cliff dwellers. The most beautiful hills covered with the greenest of moss and loveliest of clinging vines, which form a perfect carpet along the perpendicular walls of 200 feet in height. Occasionally a place of perhaps 50 yards is bare, with two kinds of rock, white and black, which is beautiful when the sun shines on it. You can also see from the road the most beautiful groves with curtains of greenest foliage. In this day and time, it is the home of the mocking bird, whose dulcet notes resound from almost every bush.

The auditor holds that the sheriff must make affidavit and file it in the office of the county clerk to the effect that the delinquent tax-payer has no personal property out of which taxes can be made before he can advertise any land for sale for taxes.

Eva Mahoney, of Covington, filed suit against her school teacher, Amon Brady, for damages for failing to issue to her a report showing her standing in the public school at Ludlow, and Judge Tarvin ordered that the report be given her.

A seat on the New York Stock Exchange sold for $28,000, the highest price in 15 years.

Dr. and Mrs. Martin have moved to one of the new houses built by Mr. Wiseman on West Lexington Avenue.

Miss Nellie McGowan has issued invitations for Nov. 23rd in honor of Miss Duke, of Richmond, and Miss Eaton, of Indiana.

Howard, Hite and Atwood Bowman, of Louisville, Smith Bowman and Mrs. T. S. McElroy, of Lexington, Mrs. Jennie Cassidy, Mrs. Moore and many other friends from Harrodsburg, Miss Ann Freeman and Mrs. Steve White, of Richmond, came Monday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Will S. Rowland. Dr. Beecher Todd, of Lexington, and Major Scott, of Gen. Sangers' staff, spent Sunday with Mr. John Craig. Miss Bessie Pales has returned from Ohio. Mrs. Cliff Anderson is visiting friends in Louisville.

MIDDLEBURG.

The converts of the recent meeting at the Methodist church will be baptized Thanksgiving day.

Middleburg is the birthplace of Judge Jones, but she gave Hobson 20 majority over him. Tye carried the precinct by 30 over Honeling.

Walter Walls, a youth of about 17, and Miss Ida Spaw, of about the same age, were married Sunday at the residence of M. P. Spaw near Walltown.

Mrs. H. H. McAninch fell Saturday and broke her arm at the wrist. Dr. Wesley was called in and set the bone, but there is little hope that it will unite, owing to her great age.

Breed Durham left here Monday claiming to have pressing business in the city, but it is thought when he returns he will bring with him a Burgin beauty as his wife. More about it in our next.

George R. Jeter takes his defeat good humoredly and is the same jolly fellow as of yore. But to come to think of it, George has much to be proud of. He carried this precinct by 84 majority which is more than any democrat ever carried it before.

Protracted meetings seem to be in order down here. The one now in progress at the Baptist church is the fourth since the middle of summer. Capt. Green came Saturday and has been preaching day and night since. It is not known at this writing how long the meeting will continue.

The speech of Mrs. Felton, of Georgia, favoring lynching, is said to have caused the Negro editor at Wilmington, N. C., to insult the women of the South. Since his expulsion, Mrs. Felton reiterates her opinion and says: "When there is not enough religion in the pulpit to organize a crusade against rape, or justice in the courthouse to promptly punish the crime, nor manhood enough in the nation to put a sheltering arm around innocence and virtue; if it requires lynching to protect woman's dearest possession from ravaging, drunken human beasts, then, I say, lynch a thousand a week if necessary."

Jockey Shirland was killed in a race at Nashville. His mount, Red Monk, fell with him.

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL

STANFORD, KY., - Nov. 18, 1898

W. P. WALTON.

ALTHOUGH $50,000,000 was appropriated by Congress for emergency war expenses and $200,000,000 of the $400,000,000 bonds authorized have been sold, Hanna and Dingley tell us that it will be necessary to collect war taxes for at least a year and a half yet. Where has all the money gone? The last report gives about $160,000,000 as the amount expended on account of the war, a hundred millions less than had already been obtained, to say nothing of the millions got through the stamp and other taxes. Of course the government is at great expense yet on account of the army, but the real reason for a continuation of war taxes two years after peace, with a prospect of increasing the tariff on tea and coffee, is because the high protective-prohibitory tariff Dingley bill does not yield enough revenue for the ordinary expenses of the government and war taxes have to supplement it. Except for the war, which Providence alone turned to the country's favor, the republican financiers would be in a hole. Truly do they prove that it takes a fool for luck, and that fortune seems to follow where but for it, humiliation and disaster would result.

THE country is getting exceedingly tired of the haggling that is being permitted to Spain with the peace commissioners and demands that McKinley either shoot or give up the gun. Through her commissioners, Spain has declined to give up the Philippines, except on her own terms, and demands arbitration to determine the construction to be placed on the clause, "shall determine the control, disposition and government of the Philippines," in Article 3 of the protocol. The U. S. commissioners were so astounded that they took till tomorrow to catch their breaths. All this annoyance comes from having a spineless executive in the White House. The terms ought to have been and would have been, laid down at the beginning, had McKinley possessed mind and backbone enough to name them. If we are to have the Philippines, for God's sake say so, and then if Spain wants to raise a further ruckus shoot her again into her.

GEN. BRECKINRIDGE reiterated his charges of the mismanagement of the camp at Fort Thomas and of the Santiago campaign, before the whitewash commission. He declared that Providence alone crowned the American arms with success and made victory possible when Shafter's incompetency for so large a job was shown so decidedly. Toral's lack of nerve played into Shafter's hands and saved him from defeat. Had Gen. Miles been in immediate command, the campaign would have been managed differently and more sensibly. He declined to say whether Shafter had in a panic-stricken moment asked him to assume command of the army after two days' fighting, saying that until Shafter told of it his mouth would be closed. The inference, however, is that the story is true and that it furnishes additional evidence of the thorough incapacity of Alger's favorite, "Pecos Bill," for large undertakings.

No one deplores more than we do a conflict between the races, who would live in peace but for republican interference in local affairs by elevating the inferior to rule over the superior race. The people of the South will no more than those of the North, stand Negro domination and McKinley is directly responsible for every death in North Carolina, resulting from his appointments of Negro postmasters, revenue collectors and deputy marshals. There is no animosity against the Negro as a Negro in the South, where he is recognized at his full worth in his place, but the moment he is placed over white people by the powers that be, when they would not so elevate him in the North, that moment they rebel and will always do so, whenever it is attempted by McKinley or any other son-of-a-gun.

REED's chairman of the committee on banking and currency, J. H. Walker, of Massachusetts, is among those who will not answer "Here" when the roll of the 56th Congress is called. He was defeated and the fact that he was associated with the administration in the failure to do anything in the finance question doubtless accounts for it.

THE Cincinnati Methodist preachers who appointed a committee to investigate "outrages alleged to have been committed recently on colored citizens of North Carolina" had better not send it to the scene. The people there had just as lief kill a meddling Yankee preacher any time as a Negro.

THE fellow who ran for governor of Pennsylvania on the platform "Thou shalt not steal," got precious few votes. Pennsylvania is republican on a platform of "Steal all you can get and then hunt for more."

Judge Van Wyck only spent $449.50 in his race for governor of New York.

EDITOR WOOD, of the Mt. Sterling Gazette, who is one of the railroad commissioners and stands high in the republican party, has no sympathy with those republican candidates, who have expressed a determination to contest the elections of their successful opponents. He says that in most cases the majorities were so pronounced that if a partisan Congress should take advantage of a legal technicality and make it an excuse for unseating their opponents, we are well enough acquainted with the spirit of Kentuckians to know that the storm of indignation raised by such action would bury the republican party in the State so deep that the stenorian notes of Gabriel's trumpet would fail to resurrect the corpse. "No, gentlemen, take your medicine like men and let us, without Federal interference and like true Kentuckians, fight the Goebel law on its native heath." Sensible advice, which fools alone will fail to heed.

By throwing out the vote of a precinct in Bracken county, because the officers closed the polls and went to dinner, the election commissioners decided that Mordacai Williams is elected to Congress in the 9th district by a majority of eight. Had the precinct been counted Pugh would have had a majority of 20. If this is all the claim that Mr. Williams will present his chances are slim to warm a seat in the 56th Congress. The measly democrats in that district do not deserve to have a democratic congressman or they would have gone to the polls and elected Williams by a majority about which there could be no doubt.

HERE is a chance for another contest. Editor Maret writes us that Old Man Zeigler's name was not put on the ballots in Rockcastle.

POLITICAL POINTS.

The republicans carried Indiana by a plurality of about 17,000.

The State commission will meet next Wednesday to canvass election returns.

Idaho will have two women in its next Legislature, one a democrat and the other a republican.

McKinley carried New Jersey by 37,692, but Voorhees, rep., for governor, only got 5,510 last week.

Hyla Visuddha is the new envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary of the King of Siam to the United States.

Senator Hanna has rented the Corcoran Mansion, the handsomest in Washington, for $10,000 a year and will live in kingly style.

Of the 90 Senators on March 4 next only 26 will be democrats—four less than one-third and the smallest percentage they have ever had.

A Texas republican will contest the election of his democratic opponent, who received a 5,000 majority. The son-of-a-gun must be hard up.

Col. Bryan says that the republicans successfully pleaded for a continuance of the case and that silver is not shelved by a long sight, but will be the issue in 1900.

Senator J. K. Jones, chairman of the National democratic committee, says silver will be the issue in the 1900 campaign or 6,000,000 democrats will desert to the populists.

The New York Journal charges Congressman Bailey with the failure of democracy to be everywhere triumphant and demands that he be retired from leadership in Congress.

A test of the new voting machine at Rochester, N. Y., proved most satisfactory. The work of casting a vote was greatly facilitated and in 42 minutes after the close of the polls the total vote of 27,000 was accurately counted.

The endless chain might now be started for the Negroes who were victimized by Davison's scheme to give all ex-slaves pensions for a vote and a small consideration. —Nicholasville Democrat.

The States in which democracy is free from all taints of plutocracy, will have 664 of the 914 votes in the next National convention. They will reaffirm the action of the convention of 1896 on the money question. —Louisville Dispatch.

One of the curiosities of the late election is the result in Utah, where a polygamist-headed the successful ticket and yet women vote in Utah and the statutes against plural marriages were made for the benefit and protection of women.

There is every reason to believe that Senator Cockrell will be returned from Missouri. If so, it will be for the fifth term. His colleague, Senator Vest, is serving his fourth term. Missouri has had a habit of keeping her Senators in office almost for life.

Mr. Gilbert's private secretary will be Mr. Lemuel K. Conner, of Simpsonville, who is a true and tried democrat and has been one of the most earnest supporters and effective workers in the cause of democracy during the recent campaigns. —Shelbyville News.

The democrats in West Virginia have the House by a majority of one. The republicans have the Senate by eight. This apparent republican majority of seven may be wiped out and the democrats come under the wire with a majority on joint ballot. The election of a republican United States Senator to succeed Senator Faulkner is not a foregone conclusion.

The Alabama congressional delegation decided to push Representative John H. Bankhead for the leadership of the National House.

Crocker says Roosevelt alone could have carried New York. He is a gallant fighter. The war fever was in the air. Had it not been for the war we would have swept the country. Democrats have no cause to despond over their defeat; there is rather cause for rejoicing. Van Wyck had a plurality of 85,000 votes in Greater New York. That means a democratic gain of 40,000 over our last year's showing. Mr. Gilbert tells the Courier Journal that he does not believe Mr. Davison will contest his election; that there is no ground for a contest; that his majority is 838 and that the republican majority in Jackson county was only 220, leaving no room for a contest on the ground that it was gerrymandered out of the district. Mr. Gilbert says the National government does not interfere with the districting of a State.

The democratic gains in the East last Tuesday over the election of 1896 are simply tremendous. McKinley carried New York by a majority over Bryan of 208,400; Roosevelt's majority shows a democratic gain of a quarter of a million votes in two years. New Jersey gave McKinley 58,665 majority and this year only gives Voorhees, the republican candidate for governor, about 5,000, democratic gain of $3,000. Maryland gave McKinley 32,000, and this year the republicans, on congressional vote, came within a few thousand of losing the State. Massachusetts and Connecticut also show enormous democratic gains.

EVERY lover of the sport who could get off spent Tuesday in search of quail. They are not so plentiful, however, and many of the boys came home tired, empty-handed and disgusted.
FOUR PER CENT.—Judge Bailey thinks he can float the county bonds recently voted for turnpikes, at 4 per cent. The 5s sold at big premium and we suspect the 4s will command a small one.
HARD LUCK.—A note from Geo. W. Lay, under sentence of two years for shooting Hinton Privitt, tells of the injustice of the sentence and winds up by saying "I would not mind going to the pen, if it was for killing an honorable gentleman," which Privitt, he tries to convince us, is not. He says he leaves a wife and five children "to mourn the loss of his comfort and labor."

A THIEF entered F. K. Tribble's house a few nights ago, but the clever old bachelor had so little, the scamp didn't have the heart to rob him; at least nothing is missing.
FOR BURGLARY.—Sheriff Coulter, of Boyle, lodged in jail here Wednesday Henry Gilpin and Albert Hampton charged with burglarizing the residence of Albert Underwood, of the West End.

AM compelled to settle with the State Nov. 30 and you must pay your taxes at once to enable me to do so. Remember 4 per cent. will be added Dec. 1. This is my last call before advertising. S. M. Owens, sheriff.
DAVISON tells the Courier Journal that he will contest the right of Gilbert to the seat to which the people elected him. Of course he will. It is the little creature's only chance to keep himself before the public and get $2,500, a larger amount than he can earn the balance of his life legitimately.
SHOOTING.—At Lebanon Junction, Tuesday, Capt. Rush Strother, a freight conductor on this division, was shot and seriously wounded by Yard Engineer John Austin. The bullet entered his left lung and he was severely beaten over the head with a pistol. Austin's attentions to Strother's sister is said to have caused the trouble. Austin gave himself up to the authorities.
BURNED OUT.—Mr. J. M. Alverson, of this office, received a message at noon Tuesday that the home of his mother, Mrs. Mattie Alverson, at Richmond, had been consumed by fire. It was a large frame house and catching fire, it is supposed, from the stove, was soon in ashes, very little of its contents being saved and that in a badly damaged condition. There was $2,800 insurance on the house and furniture in the London, Liverpool & Globe. Mrs. Alverson will rebuild at once.
DEATH.—George Greene, of Hancock county, Va., died at his home in Lexington on the 8th after a lingering illness of cancer of the stomach, aged nearly 56. He came to this State when the Cincinnati Southern was being built and for a long time worked for the writer as a foreman on his contract in Pulaski. A gallant soldier of the Lost Cause, he was as honest and as clever a man as ever lived, and many friends in the Mother State will mourn his death. He married a West Virginian lady, who with several children survive him. The remains were interred at Junction City, where he lived a number of years, by the Confederate veterans after Rev. Cooley, of the Episcopal church, had read the funeral service.
KILLED IN A WRECK.—As Freight No. 35 was about a mile beyond Pine Hill at 2 A. M. Wednesday, it broke in two. Engineer Prewitt felt the slack and slowed up, when the detached part ran into the other, derailing nine cars and wrecking them badly. Brakeman Sam Shanks Newland was thrown beneath a car and doubtless instantly killed. Both arms were broken and a deep gash was cut in the back of his head. He was the son of Otis P. Newland, of this county, and was a bright and manly young fellow of 19. He went on the road last spring and had gotten to be an expert hand at the brakes. James Mershon, another brakeman, jumped when he felt his car leaving the track and had his face cut, but was not seriously injured. He already wore the evidence of another wreck in his face. Neither Capt. Beswick or other of his men was hurt. The loss on cars and cargoes is very large. Mr. Newland's body was brought home to the weeping mother and father Wednesday and yesterday after Rev. W. T. B. White had preached the funeral sermon, was followed to the cemetery here by a long cortege and consigned to the tomb.

THE sun seems to have forgotten how to shine. Verily the melancholy days are come, the saddest of the year.

TO HORSE OWNERS.—W. C. Greening had 15 horses and mules left over at his sale yesterday and wants to go in with some one to make out a load for the South. Write him at Hustonville.
SIX years ago the Bankers & Merchants Bank, of Dallas, Texas, broke and Mr. S. H. Shanks, of this place, who owned $1,500 worth of stock, was called on for 10 per cent, which he paid. He had almost forgotten the unpleasant incident, when a few days ago he received notice that he must put up $50 more. He sent the money but it was far from a cheerful remittance.
THE eighth person to get a penitentiary term during the present court was Malinda Burdett alias Crittenden and she was given two years for cutting Mary Faulkner alias Lewis, another sable daughter of Ham. The trouble arose over the affections, not of one man, but of two, Will Lewis and John Shields, and the cutting was done with the Negro's favorite weapon, a razor. The Faulkner woman showed a number of the cuts, all the court could allow, and they proved that Malinda went in not only for gore, but for intestines and anything she could get. She is the second woman in our recollection to go up from this county.
George Walls failed to respond to a charge of carrying concealed weapons and a judgment by default of 10 days and $25 was entered against him.
Mrs. Lois Ann Pryor was granted a divorce from James Pryor and restored to her maiden name of Rounten.

One of the indictments against the Hustonville & Coffey's Mill joke was dismissed and the other for permitting the use of an unsafe bridge submitted to the court on the law and facts, when a judgment for $70 was rendered. Col. J. W. Yerkes and C. C. Hagby represented President C. C. Lyon.
The grand jury has adjourned after finding 18 indictments, none for any grave offense. It examined the public buildings and found the court-house as safe as it ever was, suggested repairs to the jail and residence and shelving for both clerks' offices. The public records were found in good shape.
A lawyer, who usually swipes the lion's share of the fees, tells us that if one man had gotten all that will be paid this court, he would then have poor return for his time. Litigation is at its lowest ebb here. Except for prisoners confessing and being sentenced to penitentiary terms, Judge Sanley says it is the poorest court he ever held.
The town of Rowland fined the L. & N. for running over 8 miles an hour through its limits, but on an appeal, Judge Sanley gave peremptory instructions for the railroad.
